Enabling Trading as a Career

Maverick Trading is an award-winning proprietary trading firm that welcomes new trading associates and trains them to become professional traders. The company has two divisions: Stock Options/Equities and Forex/Crypto and accepts motivated, disciplined, and trainable candidates. The company's system and support have the time-tested ability to allow traders to become successful and consistently profitable.

Maverick backs its traders with substantial capital to maximize profits. The firm is structured to share equitably in trader profits rather than spreads and trade executions. Traders keep 70 to 80 percent of the profits that they make by trading the firm's capital. By giving its traders access to more capital, the company teaches better flexibility in its trading and greater-than-average profit potential.

The firm's capital sharing approach is an innovation in the industry that allows traders to significantly increase their leverage without the risk associated with such a benefit. Increasing access to the firm capital is granted based on each trader's trading performance, profits retained in their account, and size of Performance Bond.

"We incorporate traders' psychology aspect into our coaching and live trading to ensure a holistic approach to the business of trading," says Darren Fischer, CEO of Maverick Trading.

It also offers its member traders a suite of proprietary tools, rule-based tactics and methodologies, live training, and a supportive environment. Traders can utilize the best trading setups, risk-management strategies, position-sizing methodology, and impeccable training. The 'Maverick Way' focuses on high-probability trading strategies with strict risk and money management.

Over 90 percent of the company's trader's trade remotely. Maverick welcomes both experienced and less-experienced traders with or without a college degree. Its Trader Qualification Program takes place under the guidance of dedicated coaches. The staff members come from various backgrounds in trading and investing and have years of experience in the market.

While supporting part-time and full-time traders, Maverick focuses on helping traders understand themselves to create individualized trading plans. It believes that personality plays a major role in the way one trades. As a result, understanding trader psychology is one of the crucial elements of the Qualification Program.

To ensure that traders trade without pathological decisions, the firm provides a personality test to help traders identify their strengths and weaknesses. The personality test is a modified version of the Myers-Briggs test tailored to understand the traders' tendencies and capitalize on their strengths. Furthermore, traders undergo 250 hours of rigorous training before they start live trading.

Maverick develops trust and rapport with its traders, allowing them to engage freely. If their personal problems seem to impact trading strategies, Maverick Trading encourages them to take some time to sort out those issues to resume trading with a clear mind.

By enabling strategies and risk control methods fostering trading discipline and confidence, Maverick Trading enables traders to be profitable from the first day of live trading. Driven by this principle, Maverick Trading is optimistic about onboarding new traders and helping them emerge as remarkable traders. The entire program dovetails with the firm's motto: Maverick Trading – Empowering the World, One Trader at a Time. fs
